

col-lab-o-rate:

to work with one another; cooperate great things can be built by working together

in this project, work together to create something amazing

(something really amazing - like the pyramids) communicate and develop artwork that displays that communication combine, play, relate, oppose, justify bring together uniqueness . . .