

respond to the world around you.

how do you feel?

say it.

- find an article in the NY Times (available for free at the front door of the art building) that compels you, mandates you, to respond
- fight back, argue, agree, support, deny, challenge
- chew it up and spit it out

For this project, you will:
research and create a work of art that speaks a message.
think of content associations, viewer interactions, and specifics what's your take? do you abhor the grizzly details?